MONDAY, AUGUST 1. 1737.

No. 655.

Last Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

It seems now very plain, that there will be no Congress at Nimirow. The Baron de Tahlman, the Emperor's Plenipotentiary, arrived there, indeed, the 17th of June, with a numerous Retinue, being welcomed by a Discharge of the Cannon of the Town, and receiv'd by the Queen's Regiment of Foot, draws up in a Line. But the Palatine of Kiow, the Great General of the Army of the Crown, who has made great Preparations for the splendid Reception of the Ministers expected at the Congress, having wrote to the Baron before he set out, to know the Reason why the Ministers were so long in repairing to it, and whether it was his real Opinion, that the Negotiations between Russia and the Porte would have a happy Issue, the Baron sent him an Answer, from a Village near Bender, in which he makes use of these Terms:

'Since your Excellency desires to know what Opinion I have of the Negotiations of Peace proposed between Russia and the Porte, I have the Honour to acquaint you, that I not only question whether they will be brought to a happy Issue, but even whether there will be such a Thing as a Congress at Nimirow. The more I consider the Proceedings of the Porte, the farther am I from an Opinion, that they sincerely desire the Re-establishment of the Peace. I am moreover confirmed in this Opinion, by the many Delays of the Grand Vizier to send away the Turkish Plenipotentiaries to Nimirow. As it is already above a Month since your Excellency sent the necessary Passports for their Journey, I have expected every Day to hear of their being upon the Road, by a Letter from the Grand Vizier himself, which he promis'd to write to me as soon as they were set out; yet to this Day I have receiv'd no Tidings of them; from whence I infer, that 'tis to no Purpose to depend any longer on the holding of a Congress: And as Things stand at present, I believe your Excellency may cause a Stop to be put to the Preparations that are making at Nimirow for that Assembly, and disband the Troops you had ordered for the Security of the Congress, as well as the Guards that were to conduct the Plenipotentiaries to it.

'Tis a Matter of the greater Concern to me, to see this Affair broke off, because it was I that first propos'd holding the Conferences for a Peace at Nimirow. The Courts of Petersburg and Vienna have, to be sure, no Opinion of the Success of those Conferences; because the Armies of both Courts have Orders to begin the Operations of the Campaign about the Middle of July: Therefore my Presence being no longer necessary in the Ottoman Army, I propose in a few Days to wait on your Excellency at Nimirow, &c.

The Letters of July 13 from Vienna say, that the four Armies that were in Servia, Sclavonia, Croatia, and Transylvania, after having enter'd the Territories of the Porte, had actually commenc'd Hostilities against the Turks with Success. The chief Particulars are as follow.

Count Seckendorff's Army arriving the 2d of July at Parakin, he sent Count Broda, Captain of his Regiment, the very next Day, with a Guard to Nizza, to notify to the Governor of the Place the Emperor's Declaration of War against the Porte. The same Day 12 Companies of Grenadiers, 1600 Horse, and 200 Hussars, under the Command of the Lieutenant-General de Miglio, were detach'd, with Prince Charles of Lorraine, to seize the Castle of Razena; and the Turkish Officer who commanded there with 60 Men, surrender'd upon the very first Summons.

At the same Time the Lieutenant-Colonel de Valvassone, of Seckendorff's Regiment, arriving by Day-break at the Fort of Ratscha, summoned the Governor to surrender, and he refusing, the Troops attack'd the Fort, and took it by Storm, and then demolish'd it. Of 200 Men in Garrison 40 were kill'd, as was also their Commander, and an Aga, and the rest made Prisoners of War. The Germans had, upon this Occasion, but 2 Men kill'd. They found in the Fort 50 Horses, 60 Beeves, and about 150 Sheep.

The Lieutenant-General de Miglio, after having put Men into Razena, where he found several Pieces of Cannon, with Ammunition and Provisions, march'd on the 6th, with Prince Charles of Lorraine, to put the rest of the Province of Servia under Contribution; and 'tis said that his Detachment forced a Pass near Nizza, that was guarded by several Hundred Turks, of whom there was a great Number kill'd, or taken Prisoners, and the rest put to Flight.

The Army under Command of the Prince of Saxe-Hildburghausen has pass'd the Save, and enter'd Bosnia, where they have taken a Fort upon the River Verbas, and made 40 or 50 Turks in it Prisoners of War. As the Prince march'd onwards, he met Deputies from many Villages, to desire the Emperor's Protection, which he granted them, and his Camp was thereupon furnished with all Sorts of Provisions in Abundance. The said Prince advanced afterwards to attack Bagnaluck, and by the Way took two other small Forts, and defeated 200 Turks near Gaiza, of whom he took 80 Prisoners, and put the rest to the Sword. And 3 Bodies that were in Imperial Croatia, pass'd the River Uuna much about the same Time, and enter'd the Turkish Croatia, which they have laid under Contribution to the very Frontier of Bosnia.

The 24000 Men that were assembled in Transylvania, under Count Wallis, are enter'd into Wallachia: And some Thousands of Men, under two other Generals, are enter'd upon the Frontiers of Moldavia. In passing the Limits of both these Provinces they met with neither Turks nor Tartars, but they found a Country quite ruin'd, Villages burnt, and Roads quite spoil'd.

There are Advices, that Count Seckendorff was but two Days March from Nissa, and only waited for his Artillery, to besiege that Place and Widdin too, which last Place was already block'd up.

Letters of the 5th ult. from Petersburg say, that the Fire which broke out there last, happening in the Night-time, several Persons were burnt in their Beds, and others whose Houses were next to the River, leap'd into the Water. The House where lived the Dutch Resident Zwart, was entirely burnt, together with that Minister's Furniture, Papers, and other Effects; besides which he has lost his Plate, and a very considerable Sum in Money and Jewels. Four Incendiaries have been apprehended at Petersburg, with combustible Matters found upon them, and are committed to Prison; notwithstanding which a Letter was taken up, threatening to set Fire to the four Corners of the City, after the Empress is return'd to Petershoff. Three Incendiaries of a Gang discover'd at Moscow, have been burnt alive.

They add, that Count Munich's Army was three Days in passing the Bog, tho' the River there is not above 100 Paces in Breadth; but it is so deep, and the Sides so cragg'd, that 10,000 Men may easily dispute the Passage of 100,000. It does not appear that the Court has received Advice yet, of Count Munich's having formed the Siege of Oczakow; which is a Confutation of the Advices from Dantzick, Berlin, Hamburgh, &c. that the Russians had actually taken it by Storm. The Fortress is said to be a Hexagon, very regularly fortify'd, after the Manner of the Europeans.

Letters from Paris say, they have an Account from Marseilles, that the old Bey of Tunis, by the Help of the Succours sent him from Malta, was preparing to attack his Nephew, the new Bey, with Vigour. His Demand of Assistance from the Maltese, and his Offer to give up Soufa to them, was at first look'd upon as an extraordinary Step, but 'tis no such Matter; for it has happened more than once or twice, that the Beys of Tunis, when their Affairs have been perplex'd, have desir'd Assistance of the Christians, particularly in the 16th Century, when Charles V. sent the famous Andrew Doria, to the Assistance of the Tunisians.

Besides the 4,500,000 Livres which the King saves by the Death of the Great Duke of Tuscany, his Majesty is come to the Inheritance of the Domains and Towns of St. Lo and Argentan in Normandy, which the Great Duke enjoy'd by Right of his Mother the Great Duchess, who had acquir'd

Possession thereof, as being the Appennage of the Succession of her Father, Gaston of France, Duk of Orleans, Brother to Lewis XIII.

M. Pecquet, who has been for above 20 Years First Clerk in the Secretary's Office for Foreign Affairs, has just compos'd a Political Piece, and dedicated it to the King, which is much approved, and intitled, A Discourse upon the Art of negotiating.

The Roman History, by Catrou and Rouille, which has been continued to 19 Volumes in 4to, is newly augmented with a 20th. We are informed at the same Time, that the Learned M. Rollin, late Rector of the University of Paris, and famous for that excellent History of the ancient Monarchies which he has publish'd to the World, has resolv'd to write the Roman History; which, we are persuaded, that great Author will perform with Success.

For the immediate Cure of BARRENNESS in WOMEN, tho' of many Years Continuance, and proceeding from what Cause soever,

And also of IMPOTENCY in MEN, however occasion'd, or of long Standing,

The Famous and Inestimable PROLIFICK ELIXIR,

The highest, richest and most powerful Cordial in Nature, is recommended,

BEING the only true and infallible Cure for BARRENNESS in Women and IMPOTENCY in Men in the Universe, and which it at once accomplishes without the least Trouble, even after all other Remedies have fail'd; as Thousands have experienced, and that by promoting the plentiful Curricie of the Blood and Juices, raising all the Fluids from their languid, deprees'd State, to one more florid and sparkling, opening all Obstructions, fortifying the Nerves, encreasing the Animal Spirits, restoring a Juvenile Bloom, and evidently replenishing the crispy Fibres of the whole Habit, with a generous Warmth and balmy Moisture, and thereby invigorating it to such a Degree as not to be imagin'd, but by those who have experienced now exceedingly and sensibly it renovates, recruits, and powerfully strengthens all the Animal Faculties, and Generative Powers in both Sexes. It infuses a bright, lively Disposition, banishes Melancholy, and inspires Mirth and Gladness of Heart beyond Expression. Abundance of Ladies, who for several Years were deemed irreparably Barren, have after twice taking it, conceived and become Fruitful; and great Numbers of Gentlemen, who by fast living, or otherwise, had render'd themselves incapable of Procreation, have soon been enabled by it to propagate their Species, inasmuch, that very many illustrious Families, who for want of Children, were almost inconceivable, are now black with happy Issue, and are (under Providence) indebted to this Great Medicine for their Heirs. It rectifies all Disorders of the Stomach, creates an Appetite, procures a good Digestion, and in all Weakness of Body, or Decay of Constitution of any Kind, is a most infallible Restorative, and even keeps back the Effects of Old Age itself. It is to be taken but a few Drops at a Time, has a very fine Flavour, is pleasant to the Palate, Cordial to the Stomach, and can be had only at the Two Blue Posts in Haydon-Yard in the Minories, at 5 s. a Bottle, with Directions.
